

Spring (Vernal) Equinox

Holy Well, Tara, Co. Meath

Saturday 24 March 2012 - 7.30pm

Nothing is as it Seems

Come and join with us in ritual and meditation this Equinox

The apple appears as a solid red ball. Yet bite into the apple and you reveal a hidden interior, soft, fleshy and juicy. As you continue to eat, at the heart of the apple, you discover small hard objects, the seeds. Visually the seed is solid and pebble like.

If we hit a pebble it shatters into many fragments, revealing that it is totally composed of stone. Sometimes we get a surprise and discover a geode filled with beautiful crystals. But this is a rare experience. However on opening the seed we discover a soft and very different interior. The real truth has been in shadow, hidden inside a toughened shell.

In this ceremony we now go behind the facade and bring everything into the light. We do this by going back to basics, the intention of the evening being to celebrate the primal elements of earth, fire and water and reclaim the hidden energies of the earth and people.
